Alexis made a great point
about being realistic in life.
But, how will I know what's real and what's an illusion?

NOT REAL

Hmmm...

I live in California
I just went surfing
I am in a relationship with Steve
I LOVE chocolate

=
REAL

Wow- knowing what's real and fake is WAY easier than I thought it would be. I've totally got this.

Hey babe, let's meet
for some pizza.

Sure, Steve!
I'll meet
you there.

You are usually
starving after a surf
session, so let's share
an extra large pizza.

I ate a lot of
chocolate earlier.
There's NO way I could eat that much.

I'm going to be realistic and just
get a salad.

Wow, that smells
SO good!!

Mind if I have a small bite?

Uhhhh...

I'm still hungry.
I'm going to order
another pizza.

Really?

I still have half of my salad left, but feel so full.
